

RE-ASSESSMENT OF REAL ESTATE TO BE DEMANDED

Seven Counties Are Involved, One of Them Cass

(By the Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 5.—Re-assessment of real estate in seven counties of Illinois will be demanded of the Illinois commission tomorrow as the result of a hearing today at which figures were presented to show that a wide discrepancy exists between the tax valuation of farm and city property.

Representatives of the counties of DuPage, Montgomery, Madison, Cass, Vermillion, Marion and Kane and of the Illinois Agricultural commission appeared before the commission to day with statistics to prove their contention that farm lands are bearing an unjust share of the tax burden.

The re-assessments are to be asked for these counties, their representatives stated.

In Vermillion county, for instance, farm land values are 52 per cent, while city property is only 36.1 per cent of the actual sales values, according to the figures presented.

A similar situation exists in the other counties it was said.

In Beardstown it was shown the full valuations are 35.22 per cent of actual sales values, while in other towns in Cass county the ratio is 59.11 per cent. Farm land in that county had a full valuation for tax purposes of 53.26 per cent while swamp land had a full valuation of only 29.48 per cent of the sales value.

The greatest difference was said to have been found in the town of Livingston, where the full valuation for taxing was 78.1 per cent of the sales values and in the town of Worden, where the percentage is 21.4, the both towns were in the same township.

Over 75 persons, many of them members of farm bureaus, attended the hearing.

In other counties the commission reported the following situation.

Champaign—County board announced its intention to reduce farm land valuations ten per cent and to increase city valuations in Champaign.

Christian—Ten per cent cut in farm valuations announced.

Clay—County board reported working on proposed 25 per cent reduction in farm land valuations and 9 per cent increase for property in Florida, but no final decision announced.

Clinton—Ten per cent decrease for farm lands with increases for urban property in all towns but two.

Franklin—County board has not replied to association's findings.

Johnson—No adjustment yet made.

Kankakee—County board held hearing August 29, no decision yet.

Lawrence—Twenty-three per cent reduction for farm lands asked. Ten per cent asked by county board.

Macoupin—Seventeen per cent reduction for farm lands made last spring; last survey showed equalization.

Madison—No action.

Peoria—Twenty-five per cent reduction for farm lands made last spring.

Randolph—County board held hearing August 30; no announcement.

Richland—Reduction from $25 to $22 an acre made in assessed valuations.

Scott—Ten per cent reduction for all real property announced after farm and city valuations reported about equal although about ten per cent higher than the average for the state.

Shelby—No change.

Madison county the association reported finding that farm lands are paying at the rate of 49.5 per cent against 21.4 per cent in Worden, 24.8 per cent in Alton, 27.2 in Edwardsville and 78.1 per cent, said to be the exception in Livingston.

COSTS MONEY TO HAVE ZO-OLOGICAL GARDENS

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Cook county's proposed zoological gardens, announced as a public gift from wealthy citizens associated in a zoological society will require approximately $7,500,000 for equipment and maintenance. It became known today thru the announcement that the proposal to turn over that amount from a special tax levy to be acted upon soon by the county board. Edith Rockefeller McCormick was announced as donor of 8.23 acres of land on the Desplaines River in Cook county. At that time it is proposed to erect zoological gardens of the "fenceless" order similar to the famous Hagenbeck Brothers.

County officials gained the impression it was said that this was to be a public gift equipped and maintained by private citizens.

A Chicago zoological society will have charge of the gardens, their equipment and maintenance under proposed plans.

CONSTABLE FAILS TO APPEAR WHEN TRIAL IS CALLED

Arrested on a Charge of Disturbing the Peace

(By the Associated Press)
HILLSBORO, Ill., Sept. 5.—Baxter Tinnell, constable at Taylor Springs, a suburb, where a union recognition strike has been in progress at the plant of the American Zinc company for several weeks, failed to appear here this afternoon to answer a charge of disturbing the peace in connection with the strike.

He had been allowed freedom after being arrested yesterday on his promise to appear. Employees of the company returning to their homes from work this afternoon reported that they were met by strikers and sympathizers who hurled abusive language and threatened them with violence if they did not join the union.

A dozen employees said they had received anonymous letters warning them that if they did not quit work their lives would be in danger. The town was quiet tonight and sheriff Charles J. Hill said there was no cause for alarm. He declared he has denied the petition of the company's employees that they be deputized for their own protection in going to and from work.

Company officials said that union leaders picketing the plant had unsuccessfully attempted to send spies into the plant in the guise of foreigners applying for work.

The cablegram added that the missionaries were in the mountains, presumably having left the earthquake stricken zone before the disaster.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT RESULTS IN DEATH

(By the Associated Press)
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Anna C. Heller, aged 63, a resident of Normal, two miles north of here, met death late tonight in an automobile accident of a rather peculiar and unusual nature. The Heller car, in passing another car, met a farm wagon. An object of some kind extending from the wagon struck the windshield of the Heller machine, crashed thru it and struck Mrs. Heller in the neck. She died an hour later. The driver of the wagon, not realizing anyone was hurt, continued on his way. Knowing the woman was badly injured the driver of the automobile rushed on into the city. What the object was is yet unknown.

BOTH SIDES MAKE CONCESSIONS IN COAL DIFFICULTY

Definite Progress Has Been Made, Governor Pinchot Says

(By the Associated Press)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 5.—Representatives of anthracite mine operators and officers of the miners' union today agreed in conference with Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania to material changes in positions which they have hitherto held and which have resulted in suspension of mining. The employees' group tentatively abandoned its demands for arbitration, which the union has unyieldingly opposed.

Miners' union officials definitely accepted the ten per cent wage increase which Governor Pinchot tendered in an effort to compromise the dispute, but asked more than that amount for day laborers employed in and around the mines. They did, however, agree to modify the demand for a "checkoff" of union dues by limiting the amount which could be collected by it from individual miners.

Both the employers' group and the union committee which met with Governor Pinchot in executive sessions regarding their alterations or original stands as concessions. The governor while keeping silent as to the proposals involved, said that progress had been made, and that the statements had been exchanged by him between the parties concerned. The conference adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Drop Demand for Present
Though the employers agreed to drop, for the time being, the demand for arbitration and to make a one year contract covering wages and working conditions they were said to be entirely unwilling to grant more than a ten per cent wage increase. While Governor Pinchot suggested this figure as a compromise when he first embarked on his peace efforts the union group today was still seeking to get the amount increased to 15 per cent. The day workers number about 100,000 out of the total of approximately 155,000 in the industry.

FIRST OFFICIAL ACCOUNT OF QUAKE

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The first official account of the Japanese earthquake came today in the shape of a despatch which the Japanese embassy received from the governor of the Prefecture of Osaka which says that the offices of the ministers of the interior, finance, education and the metropolitan headquarters and the arsenal in Tokio were burned down.

BREAK ALL RECORDS IN LOADING CARS

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—All previous records for the loading of revenue freight were broken during the week ending August 25 when 1,069,322 cars were loaded, it was announced today by the service division of the American Railway association. This total exceeds by 28,888 cars the previous record which was established during the week ending July 28.

Despite the record loading there were about 75,000 surplus freight cars in good repair on August 23, with a reported shortage in other sections of 7,690 cars.

Coal loadings amounted to 203,076 cars, 14,903 cars more than the same week a year ago when coal shipments were curtailed by the mine strikes and 43,653 cars more than the same week two years ago.

First Authentic News From Tokio

(By the Associated Press)
TOKIO, Sept. 5.—Tokio and Yokohama, separated by only a few miles of water, today lie crushed by the overpowering forces of an earthquake—a series of upheavals—that came with scant warning and brought crashing down the homes and business places of these great cities.

All around for many miles other cities, towns and villages have been dashed from their foundations and what the vibrations of the earth failed to accomplish was completed by fire and tidal wave.

While entire sections of the capital have been obliterated—all but the ruins—a very considerable extent of the city remains. Not so with Yokohama refugees who are beginning to find their way into Tokio. They tell of the terrific destruction wrought at that place which has been for years of vast importance to the commerce of the western world.

The streets and water courses, the canals and sea front are filled with dead and among the dead are doubtless many injured, to whom it has been impossible to take succor. In Yokohama far more than in Tokio, foreign residents and visitors suffered loss of life and property. It is estimated that no fewer than 200 foreigners perished in the treaty port but even yet no comprehensive account can be extracted from the refugees who reached here in an almost exhausted condition.

The overwhelming effects of the first shock may be realized when it is told that thousands of Japanese, caught by the flames that swept thru the city almost continuously driven by the high winds, leaped into the canals and finding no safety in any direction were drowned or overcome by the debris which soon choked the waterways.

In additional reports received by the navy department from Admiral Anderson, commander of the Asiatic fleet indicated that the first group of American destroyers ordered to Tokio and Yokohama already had arrived while Admiral Eberle, chief of naval operations announced that supply ships in the Orient were being filled with supplies and shortly would be underway. Other naval vessels at Manila and San Francisco were ordered to stand by ready to proceed on demand.

The Red Cross announced that the first mail today brought more than 125,000 checks to headquarters here. The amounts received by local chapters cannot be estimated but the total subscribed is believed to be large.

Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States issued an appeal to American business to participate energetically in the campaign in a message sent by him to 1,400 business organizations thruout the country.

REPORT AMERICAN SHIPS ARE ALL SAFE

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—An official despatch to the shipping board from its regular agent at Manila, today reported that all vessels of the government merchant fleet which were in the Japanese earthquake area have been reported safe. The message relayed information received from official sources in Japan to the effect that all foreign refugees escaping from the disaster had been taken care of on ships in Yokohama Harbor.

As a result of the earthquake the Manila agent said the floor of Yokohama harbor has been raised, trapping several ships inside the port. It was suggested here that this might necessitate the use of the port of Kobe as the principal receiving point for relief supplies.

STRESEMANN IS WAITING EFFECT OF HIS SPEECH

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 5.—While Chancellor Stresemann still is awaiting French reaction to his speech at Stuttgart last Sunday there is a strong belief in Bourse and financial circles that the Ruhr conflict is facing an early and enforced termination. What effect the chancellor's pronounced shift in the direction of a French rapprochement may have had on Premier Poincare, there is a growing conviction that Germany is no longer capable of paying the terrific price involved in maintaining her passive resistance.

Aside from gradual disintegration which is daily becoming more conspicuous thruout the Ruhr and the Rhineland the nation's finances are lapsing into such chaos that further indulgence in the luxury of dumping uncounted trillions into the battle along the Ruhr and the Rhine is viewed in official and private quarters as indefensible. The Ruhr and the Rhineland today are literally wallowing in oceans of wildcat currencies of official and private origin, all of which must eventually be redeemed. As these two territories are nominally Germany's most productive sources of tax revenues the government has virtually paid double price for keeping them inactive thru eight months of passive resistance in that it has been deprived of enormous tax receipts from the most prolific producing areas.

The technicalities objected to by the Klan were not made known.

GRAND ARMY AGAIN PASSES IN REVIEW BEFORE THOUSANDS

Fast Fading Line Goes Thru Walls of Spectators

(By the Associated Press)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 5.—The invisible symbol of a reuniter nation floated over Milwaukee today. It brought a tear to the eyes of men who faced poison gas without flinching, staid citizens who discontinued their business activities and to the mothers, sisters and daughters who lined Milwaukee's chief thoroughfare today as the boys of the Civil war passed in review.

They had come from all ends of the nation, bending under the case which marks their every day life to the annual reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Not one of the 10,000 who, with slow halting and irregular steps marched thru solid walls of spectators that broke into cheers when emotions did not choke back their voices was less than 70 years old.

Some, it is true, were forced to drop from the line of march but thousands, bending under the weight of years toted thru the streets, held to their line of duty by the spirit which carried them thru Vicksburg, Chickamauga, Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge, Antietam, Cold Harbor, The Wilderness and Appomattox.

Those who did withdraw proudly refused to identify themselves until assured that "the folks at home" would never know that time was winning its battle. Holding their place, although faintly, they followed the call of the days of their youth to once more follow the line of march past the reviewing stand. For some today's parade will be the last. Thousands of their comrades however, will carry on at other encampments again demonstrating as no other body of men can the spirit which knows no defeat. Thousands of the veterans assembled at Juncus park where a 450 pound steer was barbecued and the overcrowded hotels and eating houses about the town were given a moment's respite. The election of a commander in chief will take place tomorrow.

Fourteen in Hospitals

Fourteen of the Civil war veterans were recovering tonight at hospitals here from the effects of their exertions in today's parade. Nine were listed as ill, three as suffering from heat prostrations, one suffering from a dislocated shoulder and one was receiving treatment for a wound received in the Battle of the Wilderness.

S. Brown of Buffalo, Ia., 32 years old, was said to be in a serious condition.

The veterans in the several hospitals are:

Captain T. M. Oliver, 76, Danville, Ill.; William Allen, 82, Grant Rapids, Mich.; Solomon Schiffer, 82, Joliet, Ill.; George W. Logan, 89, West Middleton, Ind.; William W. Bentesor, Spring Prairie, Minn.; Dr. R. L. Law, 84, Galesburg, Ill.; Simon Brown, 86, Waterloo, Iowa; Phil Holliday, 77, Brookston, Ind.; Alphonso Needham, 80, Los Angeles, Calif.; Leander Cummings, 80, Dayton, Ohio; Charles Ramsey, 75, Little Rock, Ark.; James B. Foster, 75, Louisville, Pa.; and Marion Morse, 82, Williamsfield, Ohio.

In addition to the veterans nine civilians were overcome while watching the parade.

The Bok peace plan committee should rush that prize contest.

I may be as people used to say, that the automobile will make us poor walkers. But it makes us mighty good jumpers.

The foreign notion that Americans spend all their time chasing the dollar is exaggerated. They spend a large part of their time merely trying to hang onto it, while the rest of the world does the chasing.

EARTHQUAKES.

The earthquake perhaps, is man's oldest and most dreaded enemy. No one can tell how often a city or race or tribe has been overwhelmed by a catastrophe like that which recently visited Japan. History is full of accounts of such calamities, and there must have been thousands of them antedating all history. If we had full knowledge, it would be a dreadful but fascinating study to trace them back to the earliest beginnings of life on this planet.

And all the time ever since the fiery ball we now call Earth cooled down enough to form a crust of rock over the surface making a basis for soil and vegetable and animal life, that crust has been breaking and cracking and bending and sinking and is rising and turning over in vast convulsions under the strain of the cooling. The mountains are mere wrinkles of this crust; the seas lie in hollows made by subsidence here and there. And always the levels have been changing the bottoms of seas rising and mountains sinking and islands and continents appearing and disappearing and slanting in new directions and grinding their rocky bones together and pouring up, thru holes or cracks in the surface, the molten interior.

All these processes are still going on. Scientists find, but ever more slowly. Eventually there will be no more volcanoes and earthquakes. The crust will then be all solid, hard and dead, like that of the moon now. But then too the race may be dead, killed by the same cold that solidifies the earth and stops its tremors. Perhaps mankind would rather have the earthquakes, after all.

MAKE JACKSONVILLE GROW

Dr. J. H. Harker, who is on the west coast, has sent to a Jacksonville friend an editorial clipping from the Vancouver Sun. Paragraphs which attracted this Jacksonville citizen's attention appeared under the caption, "Make Vancouver Grow."

There is a concerted movement in that northwestern city to apply psychology to the city's growth and the chances are that it will get results.

Dr. Harker is wondering—and the question is both worth asking and answering—why Jacksonville cannot use a like slogan and with results. The Vancouver editorial is produced in part here with, changing the word "Vancouver" to "Jacksonville."

"Before selling the advantages of Jacksonville to the people of North America, we want first to feel that the people right here in Jacksonville are satisfied with their own city; are satisfied with the people who live in it; and that they are dead earnest about it."

"One way to do this is for every citizen to agree to help 'Make Jacksonville Grow.' Signing a simple pledge to this effect would change every Jacksonville pessimist into a Jacksonville optimist. 'Let every employee and every employer in Jacksonville boost for himself for his business, and for his city. All that the people of Jacksonville need is a foundation of confidence in themselves, and in their city.'"

CHAPIN SOCIAL CLUB HAD REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. Arthur Acom was hostess to the Coterie Wednesday afternoon, this being the first meeting of the new club year. The rain prevented many members from attending. The roll call was especially interesting. "How Coterie Club has helped me" were five of the original club members present to respond to this. Mrs. Alice Joy a charter member of the club, had an entertaining paper on "My years in Coterie Club work." "Through Yellowstone Park" was the subject of a paper to have been read by Miss Amy Quiken who was unable to be present on account of the rain. During the social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. A guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Scott Holmes.

Wednesday was a busy day at the Christian church, getting ready for the big chicken fry Thursday. The big tent was raised and tables put in place, a stand for ice cream, soft drinks, etc., was prepared. The ladies were busy dressing chickens and preparing for a big dinner and supper. This is an annual event and a big time is anticipated.

NEW METHOD BINDERY MOVES MACHINERY

A number of interested spectators watched the installation of the big machines in the new factory site of The New Method Book Bindery, which recently purchased the Brown's Business College building for that purpose. The work is proceeding rapidly and the management of the firm predicts that everything will be moved from their uptown quarters, installed and ready to begin work by the first of next week.

The book bindery will occupy the two upper floors of the building, this space allowing them a larger floor surface than they had in their other quarters. Ample space has been reserved in the building for the Business College.

No one would elect to live in a house without running water and some modern method of heating.

Yet many are the homes in which the occupants are so far behind the times that they still connect electrical appliances—toasters to washing machines—into fixture outlets.

The Tears of Socrates

It is said that Socrates, one of the greatest teachers of all time, wept but once.

At the age of 80 he took up the study of music. Finding that he was too old to grasp it, he wept—not for himself, but because so many of the youth of Athens were passing through the only stage where they could learn music properly and were not being taught.

MANY BRAVE WEATHER AND ENJOY CHICKEN

Three Hundred Tickets Sold at Salem Chicken Fry Last Night, in Spite of Rain—Several Pounds of Chicken for Sale Today

Three hundred persons from Jacksonville and the Salem neighborhood braved the weather last evening and attended the annual chicken fry at Salem Methodist church. At least four hundred persons were fed by the Salem people, who furnished an excellent supper. The ladies who prepared the supper take this opportunity to thank those who came out in the inclement weather to eat fried chicken and help them make the affair a success.

The heavy rain which visited this city early yesterday evening seemed to steer clear of the Salem neighborhood. Only a slight sprinkle at intervals disturbed the gathering and the rain in the afternoon was light also.

Music was furnished for the occasion by Large's orchestra, and Hieronymous Brothers donated a DeLoe Light System to furnish plenty of illumination. Although everybody who attended the supper ate an abundance of the excellent fried chicken, several pounds were left and must be sold to private families or to restaurants. The chicken will be delivered today to anyone calling members of the committee in charge. It has been kept on ice.

GRAND SUPPLANT RICE
"Adlay," Product of the Philippines, is Believed by Scientists to Have Great Value.

Attention is now being given to a half-wild grain called "adlay," which grown in small quantities in parts of the Philippines is believed to have great potential value. It is twice as productive as rice, equally palatable and more nutritious. Adlay by itself will not make a raised loaf of bread. Neither will rice nor Indian corn for that matter. It has no gluten. But when mixed with one-third wheat flour it makes excellent bread and biscuits, the latter somewhat resembling graham biscuits. In the same mixture it is fine for griddle cakes. Used "adlay" it makes good crackers or hardtack. The cracked grain is a first-class breakfast food. The whole grain is a satisfactory substitute for rice.

This valuable cereal originated in the tropics of Asia, and in India it had been used for centuries by some of the native hill tribes. It contains as much protein as wheat and more than three times as much fat. Experts say that it equals wheat as food for man and is far better "balanced" than rice or corn as a food ration. It can be used like barley in soups.

The reason why it has not been more extensively cultivated is that it cannot be milled as easily as rice, the grain being very hard. But suitable machinery will overcome this difficulty. Production per acre being much larger than that of rice, its cost should be lower, and it may yet supplant rice to a great extent as the leading food staple not only in the Philippines, but elsewhere in the Orient.

MORAL FROM THE PEACOCK

Writer Urges Mankind to Learn to Appreciate Love Which Fashioned a Thing So Beautiful.

Nature is an incomparable artist, ever at work creating beautiful things in profusion. The esthetic feeling is everywhere manifest. Look at the peacock's feather. The material brought by the blood to the barbules composing each feather is the same for all, yet each part selects a particular pigment and arranges it in such a way as to harmonize with the general scheme. The distribution of these pigments varies in each barbule, and is so contrived that the whole forms an object remarkable both for regularity of design and for beauty of coloring: the eye of a peacock's feather.

Does the hand that guides the pigment have more love for the peacock than for man? Verily not. If man could learn to appreciate the love that designs and makes the peacock possible, he would not say: "There is a beautiful bird but it lays no eggs!" If man wished to live according to the way that same great love has asked him to live, he would appreciate in man the efforts to speak in nature's universal language, and the soul of the artist would be dealt with kindly. We would pluck the peacock's feather, so let us not be ungrateful and offend nature's esthetic feeling by lack of forgiveness to our fellow man.—Good Words.

Great Brain!
The examination was in full swing. The papers had been handed out and the candidates were knitting their brows over the questions. Dobbs was among them and, after reading one of the questions, he smiled and finally took the paper up to the examiner.
"There is a mistake in one of the questions," he said, with a superior air.
"Indeed," was the reply. "I am obliged to you for pointing it out."
"It occurs in No. 9, in which insufficient data are given," went on Dobbs.
"I don't see any error," said the examiner, as he scrutinized the paper.
"Why, sir," cried Dobbs, triumphantly, "it says 'from one milestone to the next,' but it doesn't say the distance between them."

Before Clothing Becomes Paper.
When we have in mind the fact that writing papers are made from our old clothes, we rarely stop to consider that these discarded garments also have buttons, buckles, hooks and eyes, which cannot be made into paper. The cloth sorters find most of these before the pieces go over into paper. If any are left in the pulp they tear holes in the paper and often damage the rolls also. To avoid this damage the pulp is passed in a thin layer under a series of magnetized rakes, which are moved to and fro so that the magnets will reach every portion of the pulp. The resulting collection on the rakes is said to be as varied and interesting as the proverbial contents of a boy's pockets.

Poor Press Agent.
The motorist was on unfamiliar ground, and directly before him was a fork in the road which way to go. "Which way to Stumpville?" he asked of a dejected-looking man who roosted on a fence near at hand.
The native languidly waved his hand toward the left.
"Thanks," said the motorist.
"How far is it?"
"Tain't so very far," was the drawling reply. "When you get there you'll wish it was a darn sight farther."

Doubly Qualified.
Mr. Philaty—Will you be my partner for a game of bridge?
Miss Sweetie—Why do you choose me?
Mr. Philaty—Because you have such winning ways.

Tight.
Hank—I understand that her new fellow is awfully stingy with his money.
Hiram—Yes, he brings his own peanuts to the circus.

GIRLS RIDE IN PONY EXPRESS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 5.—The Pony Express rider tonight sped onward over the sands of the desert country. Skirting the south end of the great Salt Lake in the 35 mile dash from this city to Grantsville, the first jaunt of the express-rider with the accompanying calcade to span the expansive Salt Lake desert was begun by Lawrence Sharp, cowboy.

Between mid-night tonight and 1 P. M. tomorrow the mail will have reached the border of Nevada where riders of that state will carry it to its western border near the end of the renewal of the Pony Express ride from St. Joseph, Mo., to San Francisco.

Two young women riders rode their mounts today in the ride thru Utah, Miss Myrtle Gardner, a 17 year old girl, bringing the mail to Salt Lake City from Parley's Canyon and Miss Nina McCauley riding the last 10 miles of the stretch between Salt Lake City and Grantsville.

DEMPSEY-GIBBONS FILMS ARE SEIZED

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Films of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby, Mont., exhibited today at a downtown theater were seized late tonight by United States Deputy Marshals. No arrests were made, the owner of the theater having turned the films over to the authorities at the conclusion of the days performances.

James J. McGrath, promoter who is charged with having brought the films here from Shelby, Mont., in violation of a federal law was recently arrested and released on bond and obtained an injunction preventing interference with the showing of the pictures by the police.

District Attorney Olson recently announced any attempt to show the pictures here would result in prosecution on conspiracy charges of McGrath, Jack Dempsey and his manager Jack Kearns, and others.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford Regulator Co., B.A. 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores everywhere.

(By the Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, Sept. 5.—The Congress of the Inter-Allied Veterans Federation concluded its sessions this evening with unanimous agreement by all seven delegations, representing the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium, Serbia, Czechoslovakia, and Rumania, on every resolution drawn up by the various committees during the past four days and presented to the congress for approval.

This evening the resolution on German reparations and the occupation of the Ruhr, which had kept the committee on peace deadlocked until late this afternoon finally was ironed out to the general satisfaction of all thru the French delegation agreeing to delete all reference to the Ruhr and the British admitting that Germany was acting in bad faith and that she could and must pay reparations.

The text of the resolution as finally adopted reads in part: "The congress of the inter-allied federation of war veterans believe that Germany can pay with relatively short delay the amount of reparations agreed upon in common by all the allies."

The most important constructive achievement of the congress although it failed to arouse the interest displayed on the Ruhr question is considered to have been unanimous approval of the necessity for calling a peace conference.

The reporter of the budget commission announced that the American Legion had agreed to make up half the deficit of 27,000 francs in the federation's treasury by contributing $800. France subscribed 5,000 francs, Great Britain 40 pounds sterling and Serbia, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Belgium took up the balance.

Col. O. C. Smith and Everett Mann have returned from a business visit to Benton having been gone since the latter part of last week.

Oyster Shells Bring Rich Crops for Farmers

Burning and grinding oyster shells into a powder to make plants grow, is a growing industry of the South. A recent scarcity of nitrates forced farmers to look for some other fertilizer, and they adopted the oyster. To use something that lives at the bottom of the sea, the food of a starfish, for improving land seemed impossible at first, but in the powdered shells were found qualities that enriched the soil and so they are now being widely used. The shells are burned on a grate over a roaring fire. They are hauled by wheelbarrow to a conveyor which carries them to the place called a pulverizer, where they are mashed and ground into fine dust, ready for the farmer. This recently developed industry has brought oyster hunting to a state where it is said to be more profitable than any other kind of fishing.

Change Golf-Club Weight to Suit the Player

To enable the weight of a golf club to be instantly adjusted to suit the player, one manufacturer has inserted removable pieces of lead in the head of the stick. As changes may be made during the game, this does away with the need of carrying several drivers or brassies in the bag so as to have a variety to select from in meeting various situations. Slight changes in the weights of the clubs also have proved useful when the player feels out of form.

UPHAM WILL ASK FOR INTERVENTION

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee, will ask President Coolidge to intervene in the Franco-German impasse over reparations as the first step in putting Europe on a sound economic basis, he said upon his return here today after having studied the European situation thru the summer. He will go to Washington next week on invitation of the president to report on old world conditions.

Unless the United States acts quickly and with a firm hand, it is Mr. Upham's judgment that Germany will collapse, and rather than face complete ruin, might embrace soviet Russia as the lesser of two evils, resulting in general demolition of economic standards and stability the world over. Mr. Upham said that he will recommend to President Coolidge that he request congress to give him authority to name a commission of American business men to determine as quickly as possible what reparations Germany is able to pay.

Having determined the amount without asking permission of France to proceed with such an inquiry the United States in his opinion, should then inform France that the figures should be accepted at once. French failure to accept, he said, should be followed by a demand upon France to pay at once the debt she owes this country.

"The time has come," said Mr. Upham, "for the United States, the creditor nation, to intervene in the reparations question."

Watchdog "Travels Beat" in Aerial-Cable Cage

Similarly to the way in which packages are carried in stores in traveling overhead baskets, a dog makes the circuit of his master's grounds in London at regular intervals in a traveling elevated cage. The dog appears to understand the responsibility of his place and is keenly on the lookout, speedily giving the alarm when he sees an intruder on the ground.

Lions Tamed by Electricity Instead of With Whip

As a more effective means of training lions that eventually perform in the rings of a circus, lion tanners are reported to favor an electrically charged wire instead of the whip. When a beast has just begun its education, it often attempts to attack the instructor when his back is turned. Formerly the trainer's security was in keeping a sharp watch over his shoulder and striking out with the heavy piece of leather when the animal jumped at him. But now a charged wire is stretched across the cage, and when the beast touches it, it receives a lesson that leaves a deeper impression than a blow.

Luminous Clouds to Light Bottom of the Ocean

Luminous clouds of artificial light are used in experiments being made to find a method for taking photographs and moving pictures of the ocean's floor, where the "Lusitania" and many other ships, some laden with treasure, lie buried out of the reach of divers. By spraying the water with a chemical designed to reproduce the phosphorescence of waves, a scientist believes it may be possible to light up the sea sufficiently to take pictures of objects, many fathoms below the surface. At present, beyond a depth of 50 feet, it is virtually impossible to see more than 16 feet in any direction.

Temporary Wire Fence for "Hogging Down" Corn

The drawing shows the construction of a temporary fence for "hogging down" corn or other forage crops on a farm. Each stake is made from a length of pipe, which is flattened at one end so that it can be easily driven into the ground. A number of holes are drilled in the pipe, in pairs, at equal distances apart, and a small loop made of wire is inserted into each. The wire fence is then stretched in the usual way, and a long straight piece of heavy wire is slipped down through the small loop to hold the fence in place. With this arrangement the fence may be put up or taken down in a very short time.

OLD NEPTUNE AT ATLANTIC CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 5.—Neptune rose from the sea today and with a gesture of his Trident swept back the curtain that flashed a dazzling marine scene before a great throng along Absecon Inlet, formally opening Atlantic City's third annual pageant.

The sea king was revealed in an ultra-modern setting. Girls in bathing suits surrounded him, bomb throwing machines tossed grenades high into the air to burst and release tiny parachutes from which were suspended international pennants until the blue overhead was filled with colors. Back in the farthest reaches of the inland bay a navy destroyer boomed its salute to the monarch of the sea.

Lovely in her regal robes, "Miss America" (Miss Katherine Campbell of Columbus, Ohio) awaited his arrival while water sprites spread out in a dancing fan in front.

Seventy-five beauties, the flower of as many American cities surrounded Miss America, her court as she greeted Neptune.

Tonight the sea king and Miss America presided over the first public presentation of the beauties on the Garden Pier, where they were introduced in turn to cheering thousands that jammed by the auditorium.

BERGDOLL AND HIS BODYGUARD HEROES IN GERMANY

COLTS AND HORSES BARELY HOLDING OWN

Survey Recently Completed by Agricultural Statistician of Illinois Gives Interesting Figures.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By The A. P.)—Colts and horses are barely holding their own in Illinois, according to a survey completed by A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician for the United States Department of Agriculture for Illinois.

There are more horse colts in 1923 than in 1922 but a reverse case is true of mules.

There are 108.1 per cent horse colts this year as against 100 per cent in 1922, showing a gain of 8.1 per cent. A decrease of 37.5 per cent is shown in mule colts this year, however. Figures issued January 1, 1923, show that there were 1,183,000 horses and only 170,000 mules on Illinois farms at the time. The figures indicate that the gain in horse colts offsets the loss of mule colts.

While data compiled shows an increasing number of colts, it is interesting to note that the increase comes through the increase in the number of farms raising horses. In 1923, 21.4 per cent of Illinois farms reported horse colts as against 19.6 per cent during 1922. The government figures confirm observations made by experienced horsemen who have noted the increased horse breeding during the past three years. However, no "boom" is expected, as the farmers will raise just enough colts to replace the "six or seven year olds" sold mature horses it is said.

The east, west southwest, and central districts of the state very according to the increase. The east district shows the largest gain, 151.2 horse colts for every 100 reported in 1922; the west southwest district, 150 for each 100 in 1922; and the central district 115.4 horse colts for each 100 in 1922. This districts mentioned are the best horse raising districts in the state and their response is said to be significant, for more draft horses are sold in these districts than in any other.

Springfield, Ill.—There are more pure bred chickens in Illinois than either cross-breeds or mongrels, according to figures issued here by A. J. Surratt, federal agricultural statistician for Illinois. His estimate based on reports from representatives in every county in the state, is that 39 per cent of Illinois chickens are pure bred; 35 per cent bred, and 26 per cent mongrels.

Among the pure bred chickens the report shows Plymouth Rocks lead, followed by Rhode Reds and Leghorns. The percentages are as follows: Plymouth Rocks, 29 per cent; Rhode Island Reds, 23 per cent; Leghorns 18 per cent; Wyandottes 9 per cent; Orpingtons 8 per cent; all other pure-breds 13 per cent.

The report received by Mr. Surratt shows there are four percent more chickens in Illinois than last year.

MUST DIM LIGHTS BRUNDAGE SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The state head light law, which provides that approaching automobiles must dim their lights within 250 feet of another automobile, is constitutional, Attorney General Brundage held today in an opinion answering a charge that the law discriminates against electric head lights in favor of gas lights.

The opinion was rendered to Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson. One of Mr. Emmerson's automobile inspectors had arrested a man for failing to properly dim his lights. The defendant set up that the law was unconstitutional because it applied only to electric head lights and not to gas or other lights.

The law says: "On approaching another vehicle proceeding in the opposite direction and when within 250 feet of the same, any person in charge of said motor vehicle equipped with electric head lights shall dim, drop or extinguish such head light or lights."

"The law places electric head lights in a distinct class, the attorney general said.

"The evident purpose of the law, however, is to protect life and property from danger of glaring head lights," said the opinion. "The only question, if it be a question, is whether the classification is reasonable, that is, whether it is based upon substantial differences having a just relation to the purpose of the legislation."

"Common experience shows conclusively that electric head lights on motor vehicles produce a glare that is highly dangerous to approaching vehicles and it is proper to require that such head lights be reduced to remove danger."

"The law does not discriminate and it is constitutional."

Michael Strief of Moberly, Mo., Is His Son—Body Will Be Exhumed as Soon as State Authority Is Given

Arenzville, Sept. 5.—Indications are that the identity of the man whose lifeless body was found in the woods a few miles north of this town, will soon be established. Today Michael Strief of Moberly, Mo., came to Arenzville and after examining the clothes worn by the dead man and recalling some facts about his death, declared that he was certain that the deceased is his son, John Strief.

It appears that a number of weeks ago the younger Strief, who was serving as an electrical engineer at one of the mines near Springfield, was summoned to his home in Moberly by news of the serious illness of his mother.

He started to make the trip overland and when he did not arrive at Moberly at the expected time his relatives instituted a search. They were able to trace him only as far as a garage in Virginia. It is the statement of the elder Strief that his son, who held a good salary position, no doubt had a considerable sum of money on his person, together with a valuable gold watch and some other jewelry.

It is the belief of Mr. Strief that his son was the victim of highwaymen. When Mr. Strief came to Arenzville today he had a letter from Coroner Sanders and from the sheriff of the county giving him permission to examine the clothes and some articles of personal property that were found on the dead man, and which have since been in possession of George Brockhouse, a local undertaker.

It will be necessary to secure a permit from the state to disinter the body and an application for this permit has been made. Mr. Strief told local authorities that his son at one time had an injured foot and this will furnish another mark of identification.

It will be remembered that when the dead body was found by sportsmen about August 8 in a woods north of Arenzville that the man's skull had been fractured and the condition of the body otherwise indicated that he had met with foul play, and further that the attack had taken place at least two weeks before the body was found.

After spending a number of days in an effort to identify the body it was buried in the Arenzville cemetery.

SMALL BOY HURT IN CAR COLLISION

A head-on collision between a car driven by Mrs. C. A. Obermeyer and a car driven by Fletcher Hopper occurred about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening on West College street a short distance west of Prairie street. The small son of Mrs. Obermeyer received minor cuts about the face from flying glass, due to the shattering of the windshield. However he was not seriously hurt.

Mrs. Obermeyer was driving south on Prairie street and had turned west into College street. Mr. Hopper was driving east on College street. Mrs. Obermeyer failed to see the Hopper car in time to set her brakes, and the machines crashed head on. The Obermeyer car received the most damage. The windshield being wrecked and other parts of the front end being slightly damaged. Mr. Hopper's machine escaped without serious breakage.

DEACON MARTIN IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Retrial of Church Case Gives Victory to Defendant—Affair Costs State $75, and Attracts Wide Interest.

Hiram Martin, a well known resident of the Centerville precinct and an ordained deacon in the New Hope Baptist church, is not guilty of disturbing the peace and threatening to fight Rev. G. W. Nichols, pastor of the church according to the decision of a jury yesterday afternoon. The case of the state vs. Hiram Martin was retried in Justice C. O. Bayha's court and before a jury consisting of E. E. Brown, foreman, James W. Scott, R. D. McGinnis, W. J. Bown and George Taylor.

The case was tried the first of last week and resulted in a hung jury. The evidence taken in the trial yesterday was similar to that given in the first account of the affair. The trouble between Martin and Nichols was said to have occurred following a church quarrel at a Saturday evening business meeting of the congregation. The case was generally recognized as nothing more than a church factional fight, with the pastor as the complaining witness against Mr. Martin. The state lost the case and must bear the costs, which are rather heavy. The two trials and the accompanying legal processes cost the state about $75, and this in spite of the fact that the numerous witnesses who testified in each trial received no fees.

The office of Justice Bayha was crowded and the hall outside was used for standing room. The office of Justice A. B. Opperman was used as an overflow room for those present who could not get in where the trial was in progress. A majority of those present were from the Centerville community.

Reverend J. F. Juvinall, pastor of the Laurel Methodist Episcopal church of Springfield is at present unable to be about on crutches following a fractured ankle sustained about one month ago while away on his vacation. Several years ago Rev. Mr. Juvinall was pastor of the M. E. church of Virginia.

LEGION TO HOLD FALL FESTIVAL

Will Be Given on or Near Public Square—Brundage Attractions Secured.

Negotiations were completed Wednesday night for a Fall Festival from September 24th to 29th inclusive, to be given on and near the public square under the auspices of Jacksonville Post No. 279 of the American Legion. A contract has been signed with the S. W. Brundage Attractions to come here for the week from Virden where they will furnish the attractions for the Miners' Festival on the week prior to the engagement here.

This company carries about ten or twelve high class shows, including a water circus, motor-drome, athletic show, musical revue, minstrels, illusion show, and two fun- and crazy-houses. They also carry the largest assortment of up-to-date riding devices of any show on the road; one of these rides, the Caterpillar, will be new to the Jacksonville public. During the Fall Festival the Eli Bridge Co. will present for the first time a Big Eli ferris wheel especially built for children. The carnival company also carries a first class band of twenty pieces. Among the riding devices other than mentioned above are listed a carrousel, large ferris wheel, whip, sea plane, and fairy swing.

Both the city administration and the Chamber of Commerce have approved the tentative plans, and for that reason the local Post have decided to keep the concession feature down to a minimum, stating that they feel that the merchants should have every possible advantage in return for the liberal treatment afforded the Legion in other functions given in the past. The Legion themselves do not contemplate having any concessions of their own during the Festival. The Post activities committee which is composed of C. P. Siegfried, G. L. Hughes, H. E. Woodman, J. C. Walsh, and Mervin Ator, stated last night that it was the intention to invite the merchants to also make this a special display and sale week. The local Post does not contemplate any financial returns from the Fall Festival but it is their intention to make this festival an annual affair, and by having the attractions on the square and in the immediate vicinity, the crowds will be contiguous to the business district and should to a great extent help local business firms.

Supt. Gray to Help

In conference with E. H. Gray of the Illinois Light & Power company yesterday the committee requested that all street cars be kept off the square during Festival week. Mr. Gray stated that it would give him great pleasure to accede to their wishes, but felt that the public would demand that the south side transfer station be kept in operation during the week. He stated, however, that he believed that plans could be made whereby the North Main street car could be stopped at the intersection of North Main street and the square. The committee stated last night that the Legion felt very kindly toward Mr. Gray for the assistance offered in every way possible to make the Festival a success.

Plans are also under way to stage a grand outdoor style show during the week, as the show given at the fair grounds during 1922 caused so much favorable comment from the people of this vicinity.

In addition to the above it is very probable that an immense auto show under canvas will also be put on during the week.

The advance man of the carnival company will arrive in Jacksonville on September 10th for the purpose of assisting the local Post in their final arrangements and in properly advertising the important event.

These Fall Festivals have proven an immense success in many other cities. The Osage at El Paso, Texas, the Notoosh at Houston, Texas, and the Akarben at Omaha, Nebraska, are examples of what can be successfully done along this line.

AWAIT SALE OF C. P. IN PAVING PROJECT

Consolidation of Alton and Burlington Also Delayed by Probable Fate of Road—Engineer Recommends Sewer to College Avenue to Drain Station Area.

The project to consolidate the Alton and Burlington stations in this city has been abandoned until after Sept. 26, the date for the sale of the C. P. & St. L. The paving of the thirty-foot strip, including the Alton cab-stand area, which is owned jointly by the Alton and the C. P., has also been held up as the C. & A. authorities do not wish to proceed with the matter until the fate of the other road has been decided.

W. T. Biggs, assistant civil engineer of the Alton, who was here recently making further investigations as to the drainage problem around the station, has sent his report to headquarters. It recommends a sewer be run from the depot to connect with the East College avenue sewer, and at the same time to care for the surplus water which floods the College avenue subway following a heavy rain.

It is the belief of railway civil engineers that the 12-inch sewer on East State street is too small to accommodate the water from the station area after the pavement is laid, and for this reason the sewer to College avenue has been suggested to the road authorities. The road is willing to proceed with the paving of the East State street crossing, but is awaiting the decision in regard to the C. P. & St. L. before completing arrangements for paving the cab stand and the jointly owned strip along the right of way.

CIRCUS FEATURES FROM BELGIUM

Just over from Belgium and the capitals of continental Europe with a lot of new laughs and some of the most unusual riding stunts we've looked at in years—that's Joe Hodgini, equestrian comic, star of the Sells-Floto circus and Buffalo Bill's Wild West coming to Jacksonville Monday, September 17, with his family of finished bareback artists.

With the Joe Hodgins are the Hobsons and the Alberts, riding troupes, featuring Don Alberto, Homer and Little Herberta Hobson, and they do things that have not been seen to date under the American big tops. Seeking for something new this season, Sells-Floto has combed the far places, and it has, it is claimed, brought home the bacon. Spain, little Belgium and England have sent over their best, and, with the American riding stars in its lineup, Sells-Floto's rings are filled with interesting, amusing and amazing equestrian feats. Then, too, with its famous forty-eight horse act from Budapest, the second largest show on earth has reason to boast of its importations for the year. Acrobatic and aerial acts, too, come from abroad, to say nothing of wire dancers from South America.

Post Toasties
improved CORN FLAKES

A tempting, delicious looking meal—all the choicest morsels from a well stocked pantry. The fragrant aroma of all these good things failing to put a keen edge on your appetite—failing to arouse, in any degree, a hearty relish for the food so attractively placed before you. Why? Scores of men and women are faced with the same misfortune. After a day of toil—when they are tired—when good things to eat should be ravishly sought to recharge their vitality and fit them for play time—their stomachs turn. They are worn down, played out. Food has no appeal. To them it is sickening. The aroma of appetizing things nauseates them. Red blood cells are missing. Red blood which should be coursing through your veins strengthening your vitality—adding to your strength—keeping you healthy and fit—is not to be found. S. S. S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. What use is an automobile without a battery? What advantage is a dynamo without electricity? Your body is a human dynamo. Your blood cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. Weakness, blood cells make you like the storage battery with dry cells—power lacking—energy gone—productive qualities at the lowest ebb. S. S. S. supplies the red blood cells—the spark that recharges your system. Mr. James Chaloupka, Sherman School, Chillicothe, Ohio, writes: "I feel like a new man after taking S. S. S. It gave me a better appetite and cleared my skin of pimples and blackheads." Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S. S. S.—the great blood purifier. Give nature a helping hand. Get back the lost appetite—the missing vitality—the keen, sparkling eyes—that look of determination. The best way to start back over the road to well being is with S. S. S. Nerves will become stronger. S. S. S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor, and a more "up and going" appearance. S. S. S. is sold at all leading drug stores. An Official Statement by the Governor of South Dakota

On August 29, Governor McMaster, of South Dakota, issued the following statement:—

"At a meeting with Colonel Stewart, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and other Standard Oil Officials, held in Pierre this morning, Mr. Stewart expressed unqualifiedly the willingness of Standard Oil to comply with the wishes of the consumers of the State of South Dakota in so far as those wishes could be expressed and interpreted by the governor of this state. These Standard officials, although they contend that the present prices do not properly reflect the costs of production, refining and distribution, plus a reasonable profit, were willing, at my request, to do one of two things—raise the price of gasoline immediately in the State of South Dakota where it would represent a six and six-tenths cent reduction over former prices, or maintain, for the time being, sixteen cent gasoline in the State of South Dakota, using Mitchell as a base.

"After due consideration, the Standard Oil officials were asked by the governor to maintain the present price of 16 cents for the time being. I wish to accept full responsibility for this situation and state that Standard Oil, by deed and act, is working in fullest co-operation with the governor of this state and therefore can in no respect be blamed for 16 cents gasoline from this date.

"I realize that the independents who have viciously assailed and attacked me will raise bitter complaint against this condition. However, after due consideration and investigation, I wish to say that if the former gasoline prices of this state were excessive, the independents of this state were just as responsible for that condition and were just as guilty of taking excess profits as was Standard Oil.

"At no time during the period which former gasoline prices prevailed did any independent of this state raise one objection or bring one complaint to this office in an effort to bring about any reduction in price but they were perfectly willing to profit to the fullest extent.

"I realize that all sorts of charges will be made against me because of this action, but in view of the fact that gasoline can be purchased at various refineries today for approximately seven cents a gallon, it will not work injury to the public cause if the Independents are forced for the time being to do business on a small margin of profit. There is no particular reason why the State Government should guarantee to the Independent Oil Dealers of this state, at least for the time being, fixed profits, especially in view of the fact that they were perfectly willing and were a party to take excessive profits from the people."

This clearly defines the position which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has maintained throughout this controversy.

LAY STOP THE DEMPSEY-FIRPO BOUT

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Paddy Mullens, manager for Harry Hills, heavyweight boxing champion aspirant obtained an order in Brooklyn supreme court today directing Tex Rickard to lay off cause why a writ should be issued restraining the conduct of the Dempsey-Firpo fight September 14th.

In his argument for the order Mullens said that if the fight between Dempsey and Firpo takes place as scheduled, Hills will be champion under the rules of the New York state athletic commission, because of Dempsey's failure to meet him. He said Hills as the logical opponent of Dempsey because he had $2,500 profit money posted for more than a year.

(Tex Rickard when informed that Mullens had obtained an order to show cause said that the fight meant nothing to him.

"If he had any legal means to stop the fight he would have one it long ago," he said. "But Mullens has no contract for Hills to fight Dempsey, and no right to one. He had a chance to sign a contract to fight Firpo and the still has anytime he wants to come and sign."

JOHNNY DUNDEE LOST THIS BATTLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Johnny Dundee, featherweight champion and lightweight title aspirant, fought and lost one battle today but it was not with Benny Leonard.

Before a special meeting of the New York State Athletic commission this afternoon Dundee protested vigorously against the postponement by Promoter Jimmy Johnston of the Italian's scheduled match tonight at the Yankee Stadium with the lightweight champion but after hearing all the evidence the boxing solons sanctioned the postponement.

The commission ruled that Johnston was within his rights in taking advantage of a clause in the fight contract permitting its abrogation in the event either of the principals was defeated in any other engagement before the title match.

Dundee recently was defeated in a bout with Eddie (Kid) Wagner in Philadelphia.

Dundee's attitude, meanwhile, may result in abandonment of the match altogether. After Johnston's proposal to stage the bout at the stadium on September 28, Dundee told the commission he would give his answer on 'Friday, but to newspapermen later he flatly declared he would not go thru with the match at all.

Billy Gibson, Leonard's manager however, agreed to the postponement date.

Dundee manifested keen resentment against Johnston's statement yesterday that the postponement was a result of the challenger's alleged poor physical condition. Insisting that he be examined and weighed in as he would have been if the bout had not been called off the featherweight champion declared he was never in better shape.

Overruled in this request Dundee declared he would claim Leonard's title and the weight forfeit of $5,000 posted by the latter but the commission advised him, it was understood, that he had no ground upon which to base such action.

Prospects of financial loss had the bout been held tonight concerned Johnston as much as Dundee's physical condition it developed at the meeting of the commission.

It was said the advance sale had fallen far below expectations.

Fate Holds Walter Johnson Down With Tailenders But Pushes Ernie Right Up With Topnotchers

ERNE JOHNSON

NEW YORK.—Fate plays a leading role in the career of many baseball stars.

Fate seems to have decreed that Walter Johnson, greatest pitcher of all time, is never to play on a pennant winner.

Johnson has spent his entire big league career with the Washington club. During the greater part of the time it has been a second division aggregation.

It has been Johnson's bad luck to have cast his lot with a consistent loser. The ambition of his life, to pitch in a world's series, probably never will be realized.

While Fate frowns on some of the noble athletes, it smiles most blandly on others. Take the case of Ernie Johnson of the New York Yankees, for instance.

White Sox Ask Waivers

Johnson began the season with the Chicago White Sox. Salary differences delayed his spring training. Lack of condition got him away to a bad start. To cap the climax, the White Sox asked for waivers on Johnson.

Now the big break in his career.

The New York Yankees lacked substitute infielders. Fear that Everett Scott might break, made it necessary that the Yankees secure an understudy. The Yankees decided to claim Johnson, feeling that the veteran shortstop would be a very handy man to have around.

Enter Johnson in a decidedly new role.

Always a good fielder, it was figured that he would be able to fill the gap at shortstop if Scott faltered. Just a fair hitter, the Yankees management didn't bank so strongly on Johnson's batting prowess.

Since joining the Yankees,

Johnson had had little chance to show in the field, because Scott seems capable of going on forever. It is at that Johnson has starred.

When speaking of pinch hitters extraordinary, don't overlook Ernie Johnson. In that most difficult department of the game he has been the outstanding figure of the season.

Johnson's debut in New York was most auspicious. Sent in as a pinch hitter, he drove the first ball pitched into the right field bleachers for a home run.

Since that time, in 15 trips to the plate, Johnson has hit safely 11 times. In that collection of hits are numbered singles, doubles, triples and a home run.

Pinch Hit Beat Tigers

His most recent noteworthy feat in the pinch hitting line was staged August 11 at the Yankee Stadium against the Detroit Tigers.

With the score 7 to 5 in favor of Detroit, runners on first and second, and two out in the last half of the ninth, Johnson was selected to do his pinch stuff.

Johnson tripled, tying the score. New York won out in the tenth inning, 9 to 8.

When asked for an explanation of his remarkable run of pinch-hitting feats, Johnson simply replied:

"You must have plenty of luck. I have swung at the ball in the same old way but somehow the ball seems to find a spot where no one is playing. You just got to be lucky and hit 'em where they ain't."

If Johnson continues his great work he will have more than earned a fat cut in the world series, if the Yanks are one of the contenders. And that seems likely now.

DEMPSEY SHOWS DAZZLING SPEED

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(By The Associated Press)—Displaying astonishing speed and ring cunning, Jack Dempsey today started his final week of training in preparation for the defense of his title against Luis Angel Firpo.

He engaged in six furious rounds of boxing in addition to tugging at the chest weights, shadow boxing, and working the punching bags for four rounds.

The champion, refreshed from his layoff yesterday was eager for work and his trio of sparring partners suffered a severe pummeling. Dempsey mixed speed with defensive tactics, stopping around his opponents with the speed of a lightweight, and forcing the pace with aggressive ness.

When he finished the 10-round workout he was dripping with perspiration, but breathing normally, indicating that his wind is perfect.

Farmer Lodge, the 235 pound Minnesotan who faced Dempsey for the first two rounds bore the brunt of the champion's attack.

In the first round one of Dempsey's left hooks cut Lodge's right eye and when he finished the second he was bleeding at the nose. Lodge was guilty of holding throat and clinched as often as he could.

While boxing Newman, Dempsey remained on the defensive except for landing an occasional short right or hook to the body as they came into close quarters.

Godfrey, with respect for the champion's accuracy and punching prowess danced away from the fast moving Dempsey during their two rounds trying to keep him at a safe distance with a long left jab. Dempsey tore after Godfrey relentlessly hooked him to the body and head with jolting lefts. In the second round Dempsey shot a short right to the negroe's head forcing him to fall into a clinch.

The champion's sparring staff was reduced today with the departure of Jack McAuliffe, Detroit heavyweight who spent a week in camp and was severely punished everytime he faced the champion. McAuliffe left with two discolored eyes. Dempsey presented him with a headgear before his departure. McAuliffe is going west to fulfill a ring engagement. His place on the sparring staff will be taken by Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul light heavyweight.

FIRPO IS FROM THE NOBILITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 5.—(By The Associated Press)—Luis Angel Firpo is a direct descendant of the Italian nobility of the twelfth century.

Shortly before he went to the dog park this afternoon for a sparring session in which he all but knocked out three of his helpmates, Luis Angel received an official looking sheepskin decorated with gold seals, a coat of arms and Latin writing.

There is some Latin below the shield telling about the audaciousness of the family Firpo and then in the history of the family it is said that the Firmos as far back as known were of the highest caste, owned castles and were intrepid warriors.

UPWARD MOVEMENT OF STOCKS RESUMED

FINANCIAL
Total stock sales 558,300
shares.
Twenty industrials averaged

High 1923—105.38; low
86.91.
Twenty railroads averaged 79.66; net gain .70.
High 1923—90.63; low
76.78.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The upward movement of the stock prices which was temporarily halted yesterday by selling reports said to have been based largely on the Japanese disaster was resumed in today's quiet session. Short interests, apparently disappointed at the relatively small volume of liquidation, brot out by the Japanese news began to cover from the outset. This buying was augmented by the operations of pools and other speculators for the advance who began to discount the benefits that would accrue to American companies from orders for reconstruction and relief work in Japan.

Steel, food and textile stocks were the principal ones bid up in expectation of increased Japanese business. New York offices of the leading steel producers already have received inquiries from Japanese sources, companies mentioned in this connection believing the United States Steel Corporation, Bethlehem Steel Corporation and iron products corporation stocks of which advanced one to two points.

Gains of 2 to 3 points were also recovered by such representative shares as Baldwin, DuPont,
American Can, Mallinson Silk,
Gulf States Steel, Corn Products and Loose-Wiles Biscuit. National Biscuit and Continental Can touched new high prices for the year.

Chemicals and shippings also gave good demonstrations of group strength. Division Chemical spurted 6 1/2 points to 49 after selling as low as 43 1/2.
A brisk demand for Chicago &
Alton preferred, presumably based on reports of higher earnings featured the railroad list, the stock closing nearly 3 points higher at 8, after selling as high as 8 1/2.

Lusty Twins Can Boast 52 Year-Old Mother

Dr. Towne and Her Twins, Boy on Left and Girl on Right

By NEA Service

Little Rock, Ark.—Dr. C. A. DeValcise Towne, at the age of 52, is the proud mother of a set of twins, a bouncing boy and an equally bouncing girl.

They are the delight of the mother and her husband, C. E. Towne, now 75.

Dr. Towne was married at the age of 14 the first time, and has had 10 children, including another set of twins and triplets. Towne is her second husband. She is a native of France.

Who says that children coming late in a person's life don't bring as much happiness as the first born? Dr. Towne is a living example of the contrary.

WHITE HALL FACES WATER SUPPLY PROBLEM

City Council Considers Problem of Providing Permanent Water Supply for Future—Traffic Regulation Considered.

White Hall, Sept. 5.—The White Hall slogan of "Do it right and do it now" thoroughly characterizes the city council, as indicated in the proceedings of the September session, held Tuesday night. The main subject of consideration was the water situation, and it became the determination of every member that this shall have close and earnest support with the view of providing a supply that will meet future needs for at least twenty-five years. Water Supt. Fry reported that the clay hole had been emptied into the main reservoir, and that all other possible sources of supply in the vicinity had been examined without result as to finding a body sufficient to justify laying a pipe line. Approximately seven millions of gallons were obtained from the clay hole, making the reservoir twelve inches higher than the low mark in August. This insures supply for thirty days without rain by requiring the Burlington railroad to haul its supply and keeping the milk condensing plant down to a daily consumption of from 25,000 to 27,000 gallons.

The report and consequent quizzing of the water superintendent caused Alderman Seely to emphasize the importance of action that would provide a supply for the future, and that he thought there had already been too much delay in arriving at a solution. He injected life into the situation to such an extent that there is no question as to the attitude of the city officials in a determination to meet the situation. Engineer Caldwell promised to get on the job by Thursday and make up a report within two weeks as to the possibility of the present source of supply together with other sources of supply. Mayor Roodhouse advocates an enlargement of the present dam and providing an auxiliary reservoir, but if it is known that there is a better site for a reservoir he is heartily in favor of utilizing it. The mayor called upon C. A. Ruckle, president of the chamber of commerce for an expression, and he stated it to be his opinion that should the present reservoir be full at the present time it would not afford an adequate supply should White Hall double in population in the next ten years which means a development of manufacturing interests that means an increase double that of the past ten years. The rate of water consumption is now at a maximum, and this is the first time that the city has faced such a shortage. Opinion is united on the proposition to establish a reservoir more than double the present capacity, and that in addition recreation facilities be provided in connection on a scale that will take care of the demands for fishing and all lines of recreational activities together with filtering facilities. These are the views that are up to Engineer Caldwell to carry to a realization if that is possible, and, as has been remarked by scores of citizens, nothing is impossible when a community becomes united in purpose as White Hall has become during the past year when matters of community interest require united support.

The matter of traffic regulation was brought up by Alderman Winn in a proposal to submit an ordinance requiring all vehicles to come to a full stop before crossing a railroad track. This is regarded as impractical of enforcement. The mayor stated that the railroads had met the demands for safety by adopting a speed limit of eight miles through town. The carelessness of drivers in many ways was brought out, and it proved a good opportunity to put in the plea of John Arnold of Roodhouse, a C. and A. locomotive engineer, that one of the best ways to induce more careful driving would be to have drivers of autos make a trip in a railroad locomotive and see what the engineers are constantly confronting with highway traffic.

The annual tax levy ordinance was passed, carrying items to the amount of $18,586.42 which is $2,700 less than last year's levy. The report of the treasurer shows a balance of $8,271.47 on hand. The marshal reported having made one arrest and killed nine dogs. The water superintendent reported $328.51 collected for water rentals. The mayor stated that the analysis of the reservoir water when full shows purer than any well in town, and the equal of the most pure water supplies in the state.

LIVE A LITTLE LONGER CLUBS WILL BE FORMED

Call for Physical Examinations on Birthday and a Pledge to Live up to the Advice of the Physician.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—"Live a Little Longer" clubs, the initiation requirement of which will be a complete physical examination of the applicant on his birthday, may be formed throughout Illinois as the result of a conference of persons interested in public welfare to be held here Wednesday.

Invitations have been sent over the state to representatives of organizations of all kinds by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, director of the state department of health, inviting all who will to attend the meeting for the purpose of "planning a campaign designed to reach into every household of the state and continue for one year."

Clubs are to be formed of individuals who will agree to submit to a physical examination every birthday, while good standing in the organizations will depend upon the faithfulness of the members in living up to the advice of the physician who performs the examination.

This is part of a nationwide movement to popularize complete individual physical examinations started by the National Health Council.

The meeting will be held in Dr. Rawling's office at the capitol building at 9 a. m., Wednesday, September 5.

"The co-operation of Groups representing every walk of life is solicited because health examination is a thing that will bring benefit to rich and poor alike," Dr. Rawlings said. "If everybody in Illinois had a complete physical examination on his birthday every year the sum total result would be an addition of millions of years of life to the people in the state. Even the organized public health service dealing for the most part with communicable diseases only, has increased the average span of life from 50 to 55 years during the last two decades. "A physical examination annually is not a measure designed to merely prevent disease but it is a definite means for stimulating positive, vigorous health."

It's so Easy to make perfect Jelly & Jams

With
LEO'S PECTIN

It takes minutes now, where it used to take hours, to make the most delicious jams and jellies. Mother used to be so terribly particular, too, because she knew that the least slip "in the making" resulted in spoiling many dollars worth of sugar and fruit. But now, with Leo's Pectin—anyone following directions can make jam and jelly without the least fear of failure—because she knows that Leo's Pectin insures success. Leo's Pectin is a pure fruit extract—never spoils—very inexpensive, too. Jellies and jams can be made for less than a penny a ounce.

Try this Recipe for Delicious Grape Jelly

Five cups grape juice, 1 package Leo's Pectin (Use large bottle). Bring to vigorous boil, meanwhile stirring. Then add 6 level cups sugar. Bring back to vigorous boil and continue for 2 or 3 minutes. Pour into glasses and paraffine. You can dilute the grape juice with water to suit the taste. Don't use more than a total of 5 cups liquid.
